WELCOME LETTER

*July 2011
Pinehurst, NC*

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the officers of the American Eye Study Club, welcome to the 54th Annual Meeting of the AESC! The Pinehurst Resort certainly is a venerable institution among golfers, but it also has a good dose of southern hospitality for each guest. It has been a pleasure to serve as President of the AESC; I count the members of this club among my closest friends, and I thank each of you for all that you do for one another and for the Club.

Once again, the conference is accredited for Category 1 CME credit. It is no small task to comply with the ever-changing rules of ACCME and our joint sponsor. Thanks to Bill Haynes and Kathy Paul for guiding our application through the process. This added benefit will be a meaningful and enticing component for your attendance. As you review the program booklet you will get a sense of the quality of the program that has been assembled under the guidance of Bill Haynes, president-elect and program chair. We hope that all members in attendance will participate in the true spirit of the American Eye Study Club engaging in lively discussion regarding the topics presented.

The officers would also like to acknowledge the ongoing efforts of Rich and Kathy Paul and their staff for their organizational and administrative efforts on our behalf. As directed by the membership, we have worked very hard to make sure the financial aspects of the conference are planned carefully so that the registration fees cover the on-site costs of the meeting. Thank you for your understanding and cooperation in this important objective.

The Foundation of the AESC was established to ensure future support of the educational goals of the Club. We are grateful for the Foundation, and I urge every member – especially those in attendance at this meeting – to make a donation. The Foundation's financial contribution to help defray the educational expenses of our conference is significant.

It is my hope that this meeting will continue in the rich tradition of the American Eye Study Club as we exchange ideas, share our humor, and experience the camaraderie. Have a great time!!

Sincerely,

Christie L. Morse, MD

CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION INFORMATION

We are pleased to announce that this meeting has been accredited for continuing medical education credit through the joint sponsorship with the Colorado Foundation for Medical Care (CFMC). Details concerning CME credit can be found on the following pages.

CFMC utilizes an online evaluation and claim system. Once you complete the online questions, a certificate will be emailed to you automatically.

As is true with all CME conferences, it is each attendee's responsibility to record the credit actually earned by attending the various sessions. We estimate the amount of credit for each session to be as follows:

Wednesday, July 27	3.25
Thursday, July 28	3.50
Friday, July 29	3.75
Saturday, July 30	1.50

Participant Evaluation

Members must complete the on-line evaluation form provided by CFMC in order to receive CME credit.

The web address for the form is: <http://www.yourcesource.com/eval/?act=536!07262011>

This link also can be found on the 2011 annual meeting page on the AESC website – www.AmericanEyeStudyClub.org

Continuing Education Credit

American Eye Study Club "American Eye Study Club 2011 Annual Meeting"

July 26-31, 2011

Pinehurst, NC

Participants must attend entire session to receive all types of credit. CFMC hosts an online evaluation system, certificate and outcomes measurement process. Following the conference, you must link to CFMC's online site (link below) to complete an evaluation form, in order to receive your continuing education statement of hours (certificate). Once the evaluation form is complete, you will automatically be sent a copy of your certificate via email.

Continuing Education evaluation and request for certificates will be accepted up to 60 days post activity date. The Colorado Foundation of Medical Care (CFMC) will keep a record of attendance on file for 6 years. CFMC contact information: 303-695-3300, ext. 3139.

JOINT SPONSOR STATEMENT

This Continuing Educational activity is joint-sponsored by the Colorado Foundation for Medical Care, Office of Continuing Education and the American Eye Study Club. CFMC is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

GOAL/PURPOSE

Provide information on new technologies/medical therapies and to facilitate discussion that will lead to the development of new approaches to treatment options for patients of practicing Ophthalmologists.

OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of sessions, participants will be able to apply new knowledge and skills in the area of physician learning.

After participating in this program, participants should be able to:

- Discuss strategies as to how electronic health records can improve patient care through clinical management.
- Discuss the emerging role of biologic therapy in the treatment of vitreoretinal lymphoma.
- Address new technologies being used to enhance ophthalmology teaching.
- Illustrate how to minimize malpractice risk factors in a physician's office.

- Identify treatment trends in the management of genetic disorders such as corneal dystrophy and congenital nasolacrimal duct obstruction.
- Describe surgical methods for best correcting orbital fractures.
- List ways in which current software can aid in assessing Glaucoma progression.
- Review the multiple options for the use of iols in both infants and adults and discuss how their relative merits have changed patient expectations regarding cataract surgery.

55th ANNUAL MEETING ❖ 2012

Grand Del Mar Resort San Diego, California

Sunday, July 29 – Friday, August 3, 2012

Please note starting and ending days – this is slightly different than usual!

Serenely nestled amidst Los Peñasquitos Canyon Preserve, this premier San Diego resort destination seamlessly combines the old-world charm of a Mediterranean estate with the modern luxury of an elegant resort. The result: a destination unparalleled by San Diego hotels and lauded by Condé Nast Traveler as one of the "World's Best Places To Stay". Little wonder, given the sun-drenched climate, stunning natural beauty, championship golf course and irresistible dining – epitomized by Addison, Southern California's only Five-Star and Five Diamond restaurant.

And no visit to this San Diego luxury hotel would be complete without an afternoon of pampering at Spa magazine's "Favorite New U.S. Spa."

WHAT IS THE AMERICAN EYE STUDY CLUB?

Established in the late-1950s by young ophthalmologists who would become distinguished figures in ophthalmology (Thomas Hedges, Thomas Kearns, Howard Naquin, Edward Norton, and Albert Ruedemann, Jr.), the American Eye Study Club was created to serve as a forum for young leaders in our profession from diverse academic and geographic backgrounds to openly exchange ideas and discuss new developments in ophthalmology in a scientific and social setting that included spouses and families. Active membership was limited to ten years so that the Club would remain fresh and vibrant and evolve in concert with our profession. However, Emeritus members have contributed to the Club's sense of tradition through continued involvement in the Club's Annual Meetings and gatherings at the American Academy of Ophthalmology.

As subspecialization has become more common in ophthalmology, the American Eye Study Club has remained a setting in which comprehensive ophthalmologists and representatives of numerous subspecialties may share information and ideas that keep all of us abreast of what is happening in our specialty as a whole. Just as importantly, this information is shared in an informal environment that engenders a strong sense of camaraderie. Over the years, the Club has evolved with the changes in our profession but has also developed such traditions as the Baptismo Emeritus, which was "introduced" by Ed Isbey, Jr. at the 10th Annual Meeting at the Cocoa Palms Resort in Hawaii in 1967.

The American Eye Study Club is composed of up to 60 Active members and more than 100 Emeritus members who have served as state, regional, national, and international leaders in our profession. Many have served as president of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and/or as a director of the American Board of Ophthalmology. Thirty or more have served as chairs of university departments of ophthalmology. To get a better idea of some of the activities of current AESC members, please see the "Did You Know?" section of the program.

Without question, our founding members would be proud of the history and course followed by this organization and its members. Whether you are an Emeritus member, established Active member, or new Active member, we are delighted that you are a part of this truly wonderful group, the American Eye Study Club!

TEN COMMANDMENTS OF THE AMERICAN EYE STUDY CLUB (developed by Edward K. Isbey, Jr., MD)
--

1. Learn from your peers.
2. Do not avoid controversial subjects.
3. Speak your mind and convictions.
4. Support each other professionally, emotionally and spiritually.
5. Be a participant and not just an observer.
6. Strive to know all the members – active and emeriti.
7. Be a proselyte for the Club; yet be selective.
8. Be a volunteer in the workings of the Club.
9. Do not be reticent to change.
10. Be yourself and share yourself with others.

ALBERT D. RUEDEMANN, JR. LECTURE

The Ruedemann Lecture was established in the late 1980s to honor the memory of Dr. Albert D. Ruedemann, Jr., one of the creators and founding members of the American Eye Study Club. Just as Ed Isbey, Jr. is now, Dr. Ruedemann was the driving force behind the AESC for many years and served as its Secretary-Treasurer for nine years and as its President in 1967 during his last year as an Active member. He was a brilliant and innovative clinician, surgeon, and thinker who practiced in Detroit, Michigan, where his father, also an ophthalmologist, was a Professor at Wayne State University and the first Director of the Kresge Eye Institute. Over the past 15 years, many of our profession's leading figures have delivered this lecture in Dr. Ruedemann's honor.

AESC FOUNDATION JERRY & DONNA KNAUER LECTURE

The American Eye Study Club Foundation was established in 2003 as a charitable trust to support the educational and philanthropic goals of the AESC. An annual lecture was started the following year to highlight the Foundation and to recognize a member who embodies the principles for which it stands. At the 50th AESC annual meeting in 2007, it is fitting that this lecture be named for Jerry and Donna Knauer, a charter member of the AESC and strong supporters of the Foundation.
